DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-12 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-22 of U.S. Patent No. 7,145,530 B2.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because Claim 1 of the instant invention and Claims 1,6,8,17 of US Patent 7,145,530 are very similar.

Both Claim 1 of the instant invention and Claims 1,6,8,17 of US Patent 7,145,530 claim similar subject matters.

Claim 1 of the instant invention claims an electro-optical device, comprising: an electro-optical element with a current-based data signal defining a tonal gradation level of pixels, and supplied to data lines, and with a luminance set in response to a driving current flowing from a power source voltage to a voltage lower in level than the power source voltage; the data lines arranged for respective pixels; power source lines to supply the pixels with the power source voltage; signal transfer lines; a first switching element to control electrical conduction between the data line and the signal transfer line; and a second switching element to control electrical conduction between the power source voltage and the signal transfer line, during a first mode in which the data signal is supplied to the data line not through the first switching element, the first switching element is set to be in a non-conductive state while the second switching element is set to be in a conductive state, and during a second mode in which a signal different from the data signal is supplied to the data line through the first switching element, the first switching element is set to be in a conductive state while the second switching element is set to be in a non-conductive state, which is claimed in similar way by claims 1,6,8,17 of US Patent 7,145,530.
